

PMP Daily Puzzle

<http://www.pmptools.com>

If this was your message, it would be seen daily by 65,000 Project Management Professionals.

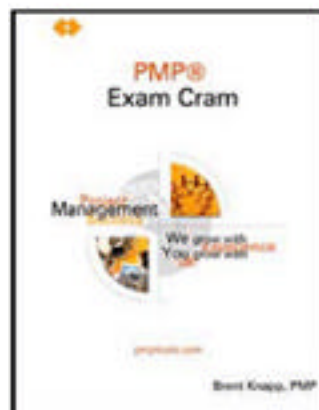

October 25, 2002

Are you running in the right direction?

A separate study component this CD-ROM, covers all areas of the exam including Professional Responsibility, changes in the 2000 Edition of the Guide to the PMBOK® and Framework. The software scores your tests, allows you to track your progress! Over 900 Question's in the simulated test. Test Bank updated in October, with 200 additional questions.

Only $59.95

Study guide for the PMP® Exam. Covers scope, estimating, contracts, quality control, communication, risk management and professional responsibilities and much more. Over 300 pages with more than 250 review questions.

Only $25.95

Boost your chances of passing the PMP® certification exam on the first attempt! This thorough test bank provides 10-100 multiple-choice practice questions in each of ten knowledge areas and is intended to simulate the PMP® exam.

Only 35.95

PMP® Exam Cram

PMP Daily Puzzle, October 25, 2002

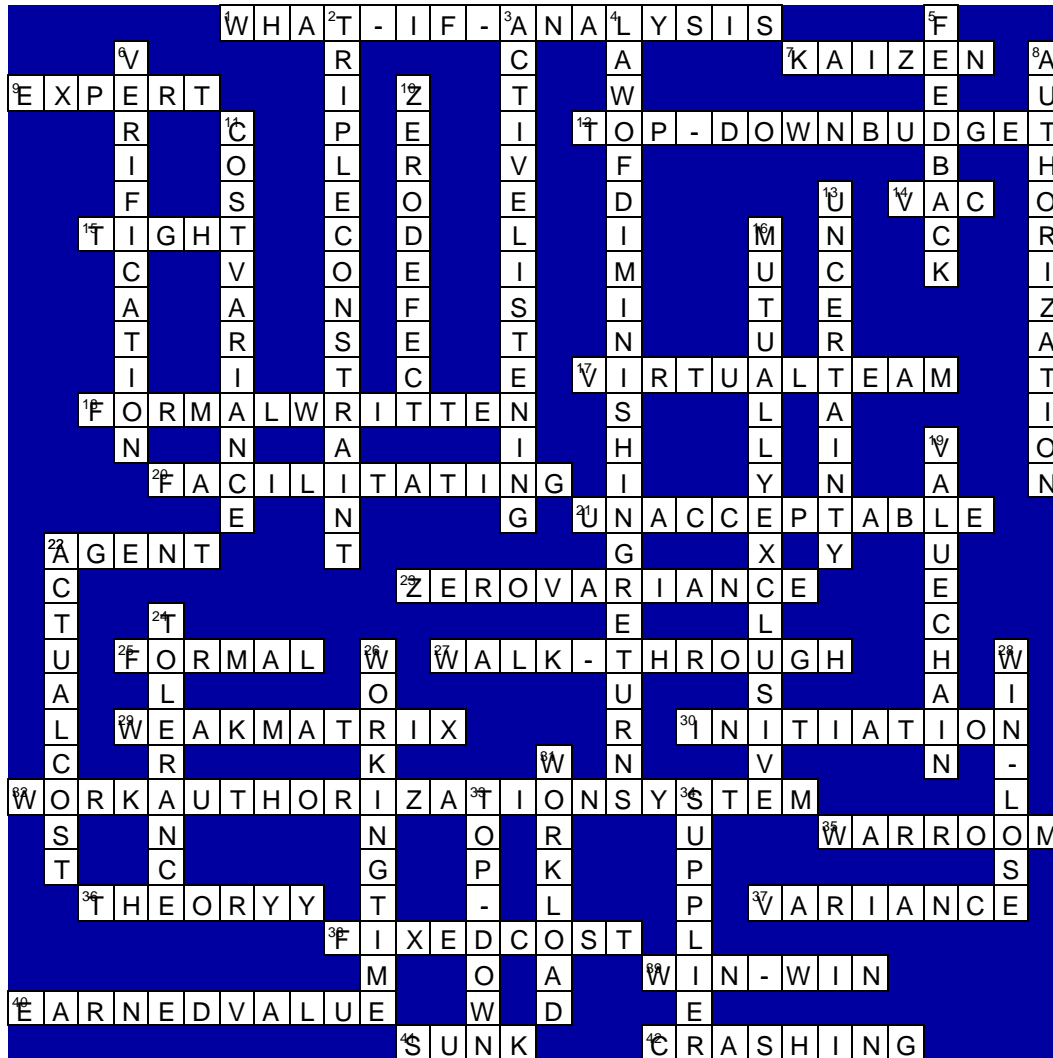

Down

2. Time, cost, and scope
3. Receiver confirms that he/she is listening.
4. The more you put in, the less you get out.
5. Saying things like "I understand".
6. Evaluation of the correctness of the output of various stages based on criteria for that stage .
8. Permission for specific work to be performed during a specific period.
10. Quality standard.
11. $EV - AC =$
13. Lack of knowledge of future events.
16. Flipping a coin once can't result in both heads and a tail.
19. Series of interconnected value added activities.
22. What did it cost.
24. Specific range in which result is considered to be acceptable.
26. Period of time in which actual work on a project can be completed.
28. A type of conflict resolution
31. Sum total of work for that person.
33. Type of cost estimating.
34. Who has the cost risk in a fixed price contract.

Across

1. Process of evaluating alternative strategies.
7. Continuous improvement
9. Type of power based on technical authority.
12. Nondetailed projections often used to determine the range of possible costs.
14. $BAC - EAC =$
15. Matrix type where project team members are in one location.
17. Project team that is not physically located together.
18. Communication method.
20. A leadership skill
21. Type of risk.
22. Authorized representative.
23. Planned date is equal to actual date.
25. Power based on your position.
27. Peer review and examination of the requirements.
29. Organizational structure.
30. An order of magnitude is made during which project phase?
32. Formal procedure for sanctioning project work.
35. Command center for project.
36. Approach to managing people describe by MacGregor .
37. Potential deviation from intended plan.
38. Costs that do not change as production changes.
39. Outcome of conflict resolution that results in both parties being better off.
40. What is the estimated value of the work actually accomplished .
41. Expended costs.
42. Adding more resources to the critical path.

PMP Daily Puzzle, October 25, 2002

Down

2. Time, cost, and scope
3. Receiver confirms that he/she is listening.
4. The more you put in, the less you get out.
5. Saying things like "I understand".
6. Evaluation of the correctness of the output of various stages based on criteria for that stage .
8. Permission for specific work to be performed during a specific period.
10. Quality standard.
11. $EV - AC =$
13. Lack of knowledge of future events.
16. Flipping a coin once can't result in both heads and a tail.
19. Series of interconnected value added activities.
22. What did it cost.
24. Specific range in which result is considered to be acceptable.
26. Period of time in which actual work on a project can be completed.
28. A type of conflict resolution
31. Sum total of work for that person.
33. Type of cost estimating.
34. Who has the cost risk in a fixed price contract.

Across

1. Process of evaluating alternative strategies.
7. Continuous improvement
9. Type of power based on technical authority.
12. Nondetailed projections often used to determine the range of possible costs.
14. $BAC - EAC =$
15. Matrix type where project team members are in one location.
17. Project team that is not physically located together.
18. Communication method.
20. A leadership skill
21. Type of risk.
22. Authorized representative.
23. Planned date is equal to actual date.
25. Power based on your position.
27. Peer review and examination of the requirements.
29. Organizational structure.
30. An order of magnitude is made during which project phase?
32. Formal procedure for sanctioning project work.
35. Command center for project.
36. Approach to managing people describe by MacGregor .
37. Potential deviation from intended plan.
38. Costs that do not change as production changes.
39. Outcome of conflict resolution that results in both parties being better off.
40. What is the estimated value of the work actually accomplished .
41. Expended costs.
42. Adding more resources to the critical path.